

Michael Constantine

Michael Constantine lives in London, but grew up in the small town of Glossop on the edge of the Peak District. He draws out of force of habit and has lots of sketchbooks knocking around – each new drawing is a challenge. Literary likes include Raymond Chandler and PG Wodehouse. Design-wise Abram Games is a favourite. To see more of Michael's work or contact him please go to: www.mconstantine.co.uk